IN-HOUSE PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT COURSES

SAVE $$$ & hold an In-house PD training

What's provided by Parentshop?

- A qualified consultant, who comes to your organisation to deliver any one of the above one-day practitioner training programs.
- A comprehensive training manual & a CD slide-show for use with parent groups for each participant (except for classroom training).
- A bookshop with other resources your professionals might like to purchase.
- Help to produce your flyer and ideas for advertising.

What's in it for you and your organisation?

- The 2010 in-house fee is $3685 including gst (does not include venue hire, consultant's travel & accommodation.) This is far less per participant than our 'scheduled course price'.
- Save on travelling costs for your workers as we come to you.
- Your colleagues have the benefit of a training day that allows them to network and share ideas.
- Have participants from other organisations attend to help boost numbers and offset your costs.
- For info on funding help see our 'Practitioner Resources' page at www.parentshop.com.au

IN-HOUSE WORKSHOP

Terms and conditions

1. The In-house fee does not include venue, food or beverage expenses. These expenses are to be covered by your organisation.
2. The In-house fee does not include consultant's travel and accommodation expenses. Where possible, we will try to appoint one of our local consultants, however your organisation will incur travel and accommodation expenses for our consultant, in addition to the In-house fees, if a consultant has to travel more than half an hour, or 30kms.
3. Where 15 or more participants are enrolled (to a maximum of 25 participants), your organisation will pay a $25.00 fee for each additional training manual.
4. Organisations will supply the names, addresses and emails of each participant for licencing and renewal of licencing purposes 7 days before the workshop day.
5. Parentshop licenses trained individuals, and only trained individuals within an organisation are permitted to use its training materials.
6. Licences can be signed at the beginning of the training day and will be collected by the Parentshop presenter.
7. Parentshop normally requires a $500 deposit for training courses at the time of booking. Cancellations up to 14 days prior to the scheduled course date may incur a $500 cancellation fee where we have already paid for airfares and accommodation.

What you need to do to coordinate an event like this:

- Locate a suitable training room with tables and chairs for participants (for up to 25 participants) with a wall or screen to project onto.
- Develop a flyer for distribution (we can help you do this).
- Advertise the course through your email network and through other local community organisations.
- Organise the catering for morning tea/coffee and a light lunch.
- Accept applications from the people in your area.
- Liaise with our office to ensure manuals and materials arrive at your venue in good time.
- Use this checklist to ensure the day runs smoothly.
